Take the Steps to Succeed at Chabot College's Annual Raza College Day

(Hayward, CA) - Celebrate your heritage while gaining valuable information at Chabot College's Annual Raza College Day: Educación Sin Fronteras on Saturday, September 15.

The annual free event, promoting higher education and celebrating the Chicanx/Latinx culture, is open to educators and students of all ages. Student families are also welcome to attend.

Workshops (available in English and Spanish) including College Preparation, Admission, Financial Aid, Student Success and Support Programs and Undocumented Student Resources will be provided to help future Chabot students prepare to exceed their expectations and be successful in a college setting.

What: Annual Raza College Day: Educación Sin Fronteras

When: Saturday, September 15 from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Where: Chabot College, Building 2300, 25555 Hesperian Blvd. Hayward, 94545
Breakfast and lunch will be provided as well as entertainment and a resource fair.
Register today at tinyurl.com/RAZACOLLEGE18 or contact Javier Hernández at (510) 723-666 or jphernandez@chabotcollege.edu for additional information.

Last fall, 40 percent of Chabot's students identified as Latino and 88 percent of those students were the first generation to attend college. Part of the Annual Raza College Day is to continue Chabot's commitment to supporting its strong Latino student base and helping all of its students succeed, regardless of age, immigration status and financial situation.

Raza Day is made possible by Chabot College's El Centro resource center, Chicano Latino Education Association and the Puente program.
